Bounding Main Sings at Milwaukee Admirals' Home Opener

Milwaukee, WI, August 24, 2009 — The international vocal group Bounding Main will entertain at the home opener game of the Milwaukee Admirals' 2009-2010 season on Saturday, October 24, 2009 at 7:30 PM. They will also open the game singing the Star Spangled Banner.

Brought together by a couple of mutual fans, Jon and Kirsten Winski introduced Bounding Main founder Dean Calin to John W. Bitter, Director of Ticket Sales for the Admirals. It was a maritime-themed partnership made in heaven. "We'd discussed approaching the Admirals to sing the national anthem for them, so we were delighted for the opportunity to also entertain before the game and during the break."

"We're really excited to have Bounding Main perform at our home opener on October 24th," said John W. Bitter, Director of Ticket Sales for the Admirals. "They'll add a great nautical theme to the evening. What's more, through their ticket sales efforts, we're pleased to make a donation to Wounded Warrior Project to help our nation's finest get back on their feet."

Bounding Main has supported the Wounded Warrior Project as an extension of their own European tour last summer when they entertained American troops at the Landstuhl Regional Medical Center.

Bounding Main fans can begin purchasing tickets Sept. 21st by contacting John W. Bitter at 414-227-0829 and tell him you're a fan of Bounding Main. $4 from $16 adult tickets and $2 from $11 kid's tickets will be donated to support the Wounded Warrior Project. This does NOT apply to tickets purchased online or tickets bought at the ticket window - fans must call John Bitter by October 19th for the donation to apply.
